

ATSSA Annual Convention and Traffic Expo Media Policy

ATSSA's Annual Convention and Traffic Expo is a professional event that is not open to the general public, and as such, all individuals attending the event must be credentialed accordingly for admittance. It is strongly recommended that members of the media register in advance (see "Registration Instructions" below). Those individuals requesting media registration must be currently employed by a news organization as an editor, reporter, writer or broadcaster. Media badges are limited to no more than two (2) media representatives per outlet assigned to cover the event. Account representatives, sales representatives, book authors, engineers, researchers, members of faculty or students, do not meet the criteria for media registration. The following guidelines are provided to gain access and registration to this event as a member of the media:

- Print, Television and Radio Reporters
Reporters must provide media identification or a business card.
- Business and Trade Publication Reporters and Editors
Reporters and editors from magazines, newspapers, trade publications, and wire services must provide media identification or a business card.
- Freelance Journalists
Freelancers must verify that they have been retained to cover ATSSA's Annual Convention and Traffic Expo by presenting a letter or email of assignment.
- Online Publications, Bloggers
Reporters from online publications must provide a business card and a letter or email of assignment. Bloggers will provide links to their site(s) prior to access being granted.
- Newsletter Reporters
Newsletter reporters must verify they have been retained to cover Traffic Expo by presenting a letter or email of assignment. Newsletters will be limited to one media representative from that organization.

Local media invited to events at ATSSA's Annual Convention and Traffic Expo as a result of ATSSA press releases or media advisories sent to them in advance by ATSSA, must also be credentialed appropriately. This will be done on-site at registration by ATSSA's Communications Director James Baron, or with another individual appointed by the Communications Department to credential media.
